

Coho Relative Value ESG Fund

TICKER: CESGX

MARCH 31, 2024

Investment objective

The Coho Relative Value ESG Fund seeks total return.

Investment process

A selective universe: the Coho 250

We narrow our focus to a highly selective universe of companies that have generally shown long-term stability and growth in most economic environments.

We employ an exclusionary overlay that removes tobacco, firearms, alcohol, military weapons, gambling, and mining, and implement an integrated ESG qualitative and quantitative framework.

In-depth fundamental research determines attractiveness

We execute thorough research on the Coho 250 universe and its material drivers and construct Dividend Discount Models for each company using realistic yet conservative assumptions.

Portfolio construction

Our buy/sell decisions are driven by the portfolio's risk/return profile. Both the quantitative and the qualitative processes focus on identifying and tracking the most relevant and/or material ESG factors for each industry and company.

*A Dividend Discount Model (DDM) is a procedure for valuing the price of a stock by using the predicted dividends and discounting them back to the present value.

The fund’s investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses must be considered carefully before investing. The prospectus contains this and other important information about the investment company and it may be obtained by calling 1-866-COHO-234 or 866-264-6234 or visiting www.cohofunds.com. Read it carefully before investing.

Mutual fund investing involves risk. Principal loss is possible. The Fund may have a relatively high concentration of assets in a single or small number of issuers, which may reduce its diversification and result in increased volatility. Investments in securities of foreign issuers involve risks not ordinarily associated with investment in securities and instruments of U.S. issuers, including risks relating to political, social and economic developments abroad, differences between U.S. and foreign regulatory and accounting requirements, tax risks, and market practices, as well as fluctuations in foreign currencies. The market price of shares of an ETF will fluctuate based on changes in the net asset value as well as changes in the supply and demand of its shares in the secondary market. It is also possible that an active secondary market of an ETF’s shares may not develop and market trading in the shares of the ETF may be halted under certain circumstances. The principal value and investment return of an investment will fluctuate so an investor’s shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than the initial investment. Investing in medium capitalization companies involve additional risks such as limited liquidity and greater volatility than larger companies.

Applying ESG criteria to the investment process may exclude securities of certain issuers for non-investment reasons and therefore the Fund may forgo some market opportunities available to funds that do not use ESG criteria. Securities of companies with ESG practices may shift into and out of favor depending on market and economic conditions, and the Fund’s performance may at times be better or worse than the performance of funds that do not use ESG criteria. Not FDIC Insured - No Bank Guarantee - May Lose Value.

Long-Term Debt/Capital is a ratio showing the financial leverage of a firm, calculated by dividing long-term debt by the amount of capital available. The Price to Earnings (P/E) Ratio reflects the multiple of earnings at which a stock sells. Earnings Growth is the annual rate of growth of earnings from investments. Earnings growth and P/E ratio are not forecasts of future performance and earnings growth for a Fund holding does not guarantee a corresponding increase in the market value of the holding or the Fund. Weighted Average Market capitalization is an index of stocks in which companies that have a greater overall market capitalization are more strongly represented than companies with smaller market capitalization. Beta measures the sensitivity of rates of return on a fund to general market movements. The S&P 500 Index is a broad based unmanaged index of 500 stocks, which is widely recognized as representative of the equity market in general. The Russell 1000 Value Index measures the performance of the large-cap value segment of the U.S. equity universe. One cannot directly invest in an index.
